

Soap Stone

Soap Stone, is characterized by intense colors and dense veining and is available in three sizes. In addition to natural and semi-polished, two types of surfaces for interiors designed to suit different styles of furniture. Soap Stone is the ultimate ceramic rendering of nature which, with the aid of cutting edge technologies, Soap Stone is transformed into an innovative project for architecture and design. In its interpretation of this soft and crumbly material, this is a porcelain stoneware project with high technical performance and resistance to trampling wear, both in indoor and outdoor spaces, ideal for use in residential, commercial and large architectural projects.
